Turkey Armed Forces Take Over the Nation

By CARVEN HUDGINS

Says Ike Taking Blame for Plane Unprecedented

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told senators today he knows of no instance paralleling President Eisenhower's assumption of personal responsibility for spy plane flights over Russia.

Herter was asked, in testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, if there was any precedent for a head of government assuming responsibility for espionage activities.

"No," Herter replied, "the general practice has been, I think, for a long period of time to deny any responsibility whatever."

But, Herter said, the U2 plane "incident was of a very unusual nature."

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) asked the secretary whether he thought it was wise for Eisenhower to have taken this course.

Herter replied he doesn't think

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Turkey's armed forces today took over control of the nation in a bloodless coup d'etat sparked by mounting public dissatisfaction with the strongman rule of Premier Adnan Menderes.

The military rebels promised to hold free elections, then hand over the government to the winners.

The army move followed a month of unrest which began with student demonstrations against Menderes and his government's oppressive measures against the Premier's chief political opposition, the Republican People's party of former President Ismet Inonu.

Officials reports reaching the British government from Ankara said army leaders of the coup had seized Menderes himself, as well as all members of his government.

The rebels were quick to assure the West that Menderes' overthrow meant no change in Turkey's staunch alliance with the West against Soviet communism.

An Ankara broadcast said Turkey, Middle Eastern anchor of the Western defense line, would remain loyal to its membership in the North Atlantic and Central Treaty (CENTO) alliance.

In broadcasts over Ankara radio called on all persons to stay at home and to obey the instructions of the military.

The military group said it had acted "because of the crisis through which democracy in Turkey is passing" and "to avoid national fratricide."

It said it would stay in power until "free and honest elections" could be held, then would hand over the nation's administration to the winners of the election.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said the department had been informed that all branches of the Turkish military participated in the revolt.

The British Foreign Office said its reports from Turkey indicated that the country was quiet.

NLB Rules Against Firm at Texarkana

WASHINGTON (AP)—A trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board recommended today that the Walsh-Lumpkin Wholesale Drug Co., of Texarkana, Ark., be required to rehire a group of employees who were on strike between Aug. 3 and Dec. 1, 1959.

Examiner Louis Libbin said the company had refused to take back the workers after they called off the strike.

The report said 16 employees were involved but didn't make clear whether any might have since been rehired.

Libbin upheld the complaint, Local 878 of the Teamsters Union, in its contention that the strike was caused by Walsh-Lumpkin's unfair labor practices.

Libbin said the union was the legally chosen bargaining agent and recommended that the company be ordered to deal with it.

He said the company should be prohibited from attempting to discharge union membership.

Dublin's report is subject to review by the NLRB.

If approved as it is, it becomes the board's order in the case.

Fayetteville Is 10th in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Revised census figures show that Fayetteville ranks tenth in population among Arkansas cities.

Fayetteville's 1960 census gives it a population of 19,252, a gain of more than 2,000 from 1950 when it ranked seventh in size.

West Memphis ranks just below Fayetteville in size with a population of 19,225, a gain of more than 10,000 in the last ten years.

The largest jump in ratings in the past ten years was made by Jacksonville. It was not listed in the top 50 in 1950 but now ranks 32th in the state with a population of 14,440.

Another change in the revised figures lists Warren in the over 5,000 population class with a 1960 count of 6,661. Warren had a population of 2,615 in 1950.

The ten largest cities in Arkansas in order are Little Rock, North Little Rock, Fort Smith, Pine Bluff, Hot Springs, El Dorado, Jonesboro, Blytheville, Texarkana and Fayetteville.

Technical Aid to Cuba Will Be Halted

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has ordered an end to U.S. technical assistance to Cuba within six months, the State Department announced today.

Eisenhower issued the order May 14 under the foreign aid law ban against providing aid that is not in the national interest of the United States.

No specific reason was cited for the ban, but U.S. policymakers have been deeply concerned over Premier Fidel Castro's repeated attacks against the United States.

The U.S. technical assistance which Eisenhower's order cuts off has been running at the rate of about $150,000 to $200,000 a year.

The aid, which included the services of nine American technicians, has been used to improve Cuba's civil aviation and agriculture.

Small Change in Dept. Store Sales

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reports that department stores in the 21st Federal Reserve District the week ended May 21st averaged one per cent below the similar week of 1959.

Louisville sales were up eight per cent.

The Little Rock area showed the biggest slump, four per cent. St. Louis was down three per cent. The Memphis area sales were the same as last year and sales in the seven smaller district cities were down two per cent.

For the four-week period ended May 21, sales were two per cent below last year. Cumulative sales to date were one per cent below the similar period of 1959.

U. S. Feels Turkey Will Hold Stand

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States officials were confident today that Turkey would hold firmly to its anchor position as an anti-Communist ally despite the overthrow of the government of Premier Adnan Menderes.

The strategically located nation is a member of both the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Central (Middle Eastern) Treaty Organization. Its geographical position gives it a vital importance in the alliance structure.

Turkey controls the straits between the Soviet-dominated Black Sea and the Western-controlled Mediterranean. It guards the southeastern flank of non-Communist Europe and the western flank of non-Communist Asia. It controls the approaches from the Soviet Union into the continent of Africa and the Arab world of the Middle East.

Officials reported that little was known here about the military group which seized power from Menderes. But declarations from this group that it would stand loyally by Turkey's commitments to NATO, CENTO and the United Nations were accepted at the State Department at face value.

Turkey has a very long record of opposing expansionist pressures from the Soviet Union prior to the establishment of the Soviet system at Moscow.

Reports reaching the State Department from Turkey said no American citizens had been harmed in the uprising and no American property had been damaged. On the whole, the overthrow of the Menderes administration was regarded here as a surprisingly quiet affair.

Rail Innocent of Negligence

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A federal District Court jury found the Cotton Belt Railroad innocent yesterday of any negligence in the death of Jack Brewer, a carpenter in the railroad's Pine Bluff shops.

Brewer's widow had asked $25,000 in damages from the railroad. She claimed Dr. William Hibbets, chief surgeon of the Cotton Belt Hospital in Texarkana, was negligent in authorizing her husband to return to work after treatment for a heart ailment without giving him another examination.

Brewer, 56, was hospitalized for a week in January, 1957, at the Texarkana hospital for a heart condition. He recuperated at home for 18 days, then returned to work Feb. 18 and died that day of heart failure.

The jury ruled Dr. Hibbets was not negligent and neither were railroad officials.

U.S. Charges Russia With Deliberately Creating a Crisis

Amendment to School Bill May Spell Trouble

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Inclusion of an antisegregation amendment raised questions today about Senate acceptance of the first general school construction bill ever passed by the House.

A long, wrangling session ended in a 206-189 House vote Thursday to authorize $1,300,000 in federal grants over a four-year period to help with construction of public school classrooms.

Sponsors had hoped for quick approval by the Senate, which already had passed a more comprehensive measure.

But before passage, the House voted 218-181 to deny the funds to any school judged to be in defiance of court integration orders.

That amendment was sponsored by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY).

Southern senators were expected to object strongly to that provision. And efforts to work out a Senate-House compromise would have to be cleared through the House Rules Committee, which had held up the bill for months.

The bill would authorize 325 million dollars a year to the states for each of four years, with the states required to match all federal funds received. For the first two years, local school funds as well as state money could be used for matching purposes.

Rejected were amendments to permit funds to be used for teachers' salaries and to authorize construction loans to private and parochial schools. Both proposals were ruled out of order on party and did not come a vote.

As finally approved the money would be allocated to the states on the basis of their school-age population and could be used only for school construction.

Officers Locked in a Darkroom

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two Little Rock policemen were "jilted" for almost an hour yesterday in a photographer's darkroom.

The officers were changing film holders in the darkroom of television station KARK. The KARK photographer left on an assignment and the 2-year-old son of one of the officers closed the door to the darkroom locking it from the outside.

The policemen fumbled in the dark for 45 minutes before one of them found a telephone, called the studio and asked to be let out. They came out red-faced.

The station refused to give their names. "They might be embarrassed," a spokesman said.

Rail Users May Have to Go to Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—Users of the Arkansas & Ozark Railroad may have to go to court to get the line back in operation, Rep. James W. Trimble says.

A flash flood earlier this month damaged several bridges along the short route from Harrison, Ark., to Seligman, Mo., and halted trains.

After a conference with Interstate Commerce Commission officials Thursday, Trimble said he wired Chamber of Commerce managers in Berryville, Eureka Springs, Harrison and Green Forest.

He suggested they might have to petition either the federal district court for an injunction to require the A & O to repair the damages and continue operation or the ICC to order a resumption of service.

Sometime ago the Army engineers obtained a court order giving them control of nearly three miles of A & O tracks near the Table Rock Reservoir. The engineers have been negotiating with the A & O, Trimble said, on arrangements to permit A & O to continue operation of the line but negotiations have not been completed.

Trimble said ICC investigators have estimated it would cost about $10,000 to repair the flood damage. He also said that the ICC is exploring other actions it might take to get the line back in operation.

Difficulties at Home Cited by Mr. Lodge

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge charged today the Soviet Union deliberately manufactured the current crisis over spy plane flights because of internal political difficulties.

The U.S. delegate told the U.N. Security Council that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko had distorted President Eisenhower's address to the nation Wednesday night in order to keep the crisis boiling.

Lodge spoke as the U-nation council neared a vote—and a possible Soviet veto—on a small nation resolution calling for renewed East-West negotiations with the aid of the United Nations.

Lodge vigorously denied Eisenhower had said the United States was prepared to continue a policy of espionage and sabotage. Gromyko declared Thursday that the President had placed mankind on the brink of war by confirming such a policy.

"That is what the Soviet foreign minister said about Dwight D. Eisenhower whose love of peace is a household word throughout the world," Lodge said. "Any honest reading of the President's speech shows that he said no such thing. One thing the United States has never engaged in is sabotage."

Lodge asked why Gromyko continues to talk as though he regrets Eisenhower's declaration halting U2 flights over Soviet territory.

"For some reason emanating from Soviet internal politics," he said, "he wants to have a pretext for a new zig-zag in Soviet foreign policy."

He said Communist agitators must have a grievance as a rallying point.

Lodge did not go into detail on the Soviet internal situation. But Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said in Washington there were numerous indications Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was under pressure from both colleagues in the Kremlin and the Chinese Communists on matters of foreign policy.

Gromyko took the floor later to press for a series of Soviet amendments of the small nation resolution. He sought to revise the proposal to include an indictment of unauthorized flights by planes of one country over the territory of another.

The Western powers opposed the Soviet amendments.

Gromyko again took off on U.S. policy and once more criticized Eisenhower personally.

He said Khrushchev had spoken many good words in favor of Eisenhower, but added:

"How can we assess, how can we qualify the position of the Soviet government, when the head of the U.S. government himself proclaims an unprecedented and unheard-of policy of gross and flagrant violation of the sovereignty of the Soviet Union?"

Gromyko accused the United States of following "a policy of perfidy and hypocrisy."

"Such a partner in negotiations," he said, "could not be a reliable partner."

Wells Looking for Buyers for Book
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Former Little Rock weekly newspaper publisher John F. Wells is looking for buyers for a book he has written on the Little Rock integration controversy.
Wells has titled his book "Time Bomb—The Faubus Revolt." He said it concerns events of the past 25 years which led to "Labor Day explosions of 1957 and 1959."
He won't publish it unless he finds enough buyers.
On Labor Day of 1957, Gov. Orval E. Faubus called out the National Guard to halt court-ordered integration at Central High School. On Labor Day of 1959, three integration-related explosions damaged two buildings and an automobile.
Wells sold his weekly Arkansas Recorder last August.

RELIGION AND POLITICS

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.M.

This column is distinctively religious, but religion and politics are involved today in an intense way, much it is to be deplored. Because the question of a Roman Catholic candidate for the U.S. presidency is one in which I once was deeply involved, it seems fitting that I discuss it in the hope of clarifying some aspects of the issue.

In 1928 when Al Smith was a candidate for the presidency I was editor of The Congregationist, a prominent Protestant paper. Normally the paper was nonpolitical and certainly not partisan, though probably most of its constituents were of the Republican Party.

Though I was personally independent it was natural that I was accused of opposing Smith politically, but the chief accusation was that it was because of Protestant bigotry that I opposed a Roman Catholic.

The charge of bigotry fell rather flat considering the fact that for years before coming to the U.S. from Canada I had supported a Roman Catholic, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, for the highest office in the land.

The governor general, it should be remembered, is the appointed and official head of government, but the elected and responsible head is the prime minister. Political support of the latter corresponds to support of a U.S. presidential candidate.

Incidentally, two other Canadian prime ministers have been Roman Catholics, and I am not aware of any act or policy of either ever brought an accusation of undue influence.

My editorial opposition to Smith was solely on the wet or dry issue.

My paper had taken the prohibition position, and it could not rightly back down in the face of Smith's wet policy.

Actually I was not a strong prohibitionist. I had always been an intense and active "dry." A daily newspaper once described me as "a dry, but not a fanatical dry."

In the belief that the liquor traffic was and is a great menace to society, I took the dry side, and it was only on that ground that I opposed Smith.

Today, as a U.S. citizen, my vote is cast as freely and as unbiased as it was in Canada.

I cannot see that any other attitude is either soundly American or soundly Christian.

Nevertheless, the issue is not simple, and some who take a different position may be justified. Roman Catholicism represents a political state as well as a church.

If there were a Methodist, or a Presbyterian state, I think similar questions would arise about a Methodist or a Presbyterian candidate.

The issue is complicated further by the totalitarian aspect of Roman Catholic authority.

To this I think the answer is that many Roman Catholics, despite their allegiance to the church, are not totalitarian.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, for instance, look strong ground in opposing Roman Catholic action in a matter affecting separate schools in Manitoba.

It was an ostensibly anti-Catholic Orangeman, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, who supported the Roman Catholic position.

Political principles in men of integrity will not be dominated by outward religious affiliation.

DOROTHY DIX

Broken Home
Broken Life

By DOROTHY DIX

Dear Dorothy Dix: My parents divorced and my mother remarried. I ran away, was found and went to live with my Dad who didn't want me in the first place. I ran away again and now at 14 am back with my Mom.

I know I've caused her a lot of trouble and I'm sorry. I have a police record. I'm going with a boy who's been in trouble. My mother calls him a hoodlum. Everybody makes mistakes. He really has changed. He says he loves me. I believe I love him. Yesterday we were sitting on the steps and my car coat got dirty. My mother slapped me and started accusing me of having affairs. She called me filthy names. I quit school and am trying to make something of myself by going to night school. She says she will have me kicked out and is going to the police about me. Some adults talk about how childish teen-agers act. My mother is worse than a five-year-old.

I am going to ask her if I can: 1. Stay with her and get along. 2. Find a job, get an apartment and move. (She has told me many times to do this.) 3. Move in with my Grandma (which I wouldn't like). Mom won't sign for me to get married. I am planning to run away if I don't have anywhere to turn. I hate my stepfather. He's a drunk. I loved my mother very much but lately I'm losing my feeling I had for her.

This boy doesn't talk of marriage often. I'm afraid I'll lose him. If I tell him I'm through with sex, will he think I'm a decent girl? —Desperate

Dear Desperate: Put marriage out of your mind. In the first place you're far too young; in the second, you would be going from bad to worse. The bond between you and the boy is that you've both been in trouble. That's no basis for a successful marriage. Face the facts, dear child: What training, if any, have you had to be a good wife and mother?

If marriage is your objective, set about preparing yourself for it. If your mother and father had done so, you wouldn't have a police record today. Go back to school, even if you have to work your way through. No matter what you've done or been, your mother should never slap you, call you names or threaten to turn you over to the police. If there is anything wrong with you, there's probably something wrong with her. Because of your broken home, it's up to her—even more than your father—to give you an extra amount of loving.

Send your problem to Dorothy Dix. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

Must Have Read That Story

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP)—Fenton Kimbrough's pet crow must have read Mary's Little Lamb.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have four children. My husband and I separated when the last baby was born 11 years ago. It was because of another woman. I was broken-hearted but managed to pull through. Now he asks me to either take him back or get a divorce so he can marry the other woman. He has confused me all over again. I don't seem to care either way, yet am afraid to make a decision. My doctor told me my husband has a psychopathic personality. What shall I do? —Confused

Dear Confused: Be realistic. Face the facts by putting them down. Take two sheets of paper. On one list the advantages of reconciliation with your husband; on the other, the disadvantages. Evaluate and tally both pages. Base your decision upon the one which is the more favorable for you. Make sure that you not only decide but act!

Dear Despair: Group activity could be the answer to a cantankerous neighbor. How about you and others on your block uniting on a community project and including the Mary. Mary Quite Contrary?

It should be a project about which you all feel strongly, such as better street lighting, police protection or bus service. It might even be a neighborhood art commission to save some local landmark. As an example, the tenants of the New York apartment house where I live and have my office, are firm friends, ready to do or die for each other. An iconoclastic landlord united us in a common cause—that of preventing his destruction of our beautiful building designed by Stanford White at his best.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Should I go into marriage without telling my boy friend about having an affair with a married man for two years? If I do, he may walk out on me; and if I don't, somebody will probably tell him. Please tell me what to do. —Desperate

Dear Desperate: Tell your fiancé the truth but don't make a production of it. He's probably had a similar experience. If he raises Cain, then he isn't worth the marrying. Frankness, understanding and compassion are essential to a happy marriage.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I know this boy likes me because he told others he does. He has a bad reputation for drinking but would never hurt me. He is faithful and trustful. I am only 14 years old but I love him. Two friends caused us trouble. Now I can't go out with him. He wasn't mad at me, but my sister and her two friends, and won't come back. He is the only boy who really understands how I feel. I can't sleep or eat. My parents are away. If I don't get help quickly I will do something terrible. Help me. Nobody else can. —Brokenhearted

Dear Brokenhearted: All of this heartache you're going through is only part of growing up. If it weren't this boy, it would be someone else. One thing is certain: If he really loved you all the fire, flood, pestilence, famine and gossip in the world couldn't keep him from you. Give yourself a pep talk. At 14 you face a long and happy future, provided you've got the character to make it so. Be strong. Go on with life!

I am 16, a junior in high school and consider myself good looking. I hang around with a boy who drives, figuring that since he has the car, I would have transportation for dates. But it hasn't worked out like that; girls just don't go out with me. One finally accepted. When I found out that she didn't like me, I told some of my friends certain things about her that weren't true. This girl's friends have been telling me I was rotten, a liar, and a good-for-nothing trouble-maker.

I want to go out with other girls but I am afraid that the same situation will again develop. What can I do? Please print your reply. My parents read all my mail. R. W.

Dear R. W.: You've got to learn to look up the definitions of loyalty, sincerity and honor. Make them an active part of your character. Any boy who spreads untruths about a girl deserves justice what you're getting—turndowns.

If you want to date nice girls, you'd better reform quick.

You need a new set of values. You should like your friend for himself—not his car. But—good or bad—your parents should not read your mail. That's a mark against them and may be one of the reasons why you react as you do.

Send your problem to Dorothy Dix. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

Offers Plan for Chief Aide to Ike

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan to make the secretary of state the president's chief officer for all national security affairs — including overseas military matters — was offered to the Senate today.

George B. Kennan, former ambassador to the Soviet Union, said his proposal would give the United States "a better coordination of military policy with national policy generally than we have had in recent years."

His testimony was prepared for the subcommittee on national policy machinery headed by Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.). The hearings are aimed at finding and eliminating the causes of lapses, delays and rigidities in the government's decision-making process.

Kennan avoided reference to any specific cold war decisions, including the handling of the U.S. spy plane incidents and other events preceding the collapse of the summit meeting last week.

But Kennan said "organizational deficiencies" and "cumbersomeness of our governmental machinery" have been important factors in "hampering our performance as a world power."

He deplored what he called the "contagion of bigness" in the government and a growing tendency to use advisory committees in seeking policy decisions. "The committee system produces 'endless compromises' and weak decisions," he said.

If a committee's disagreement is "bucked to the next higher level," Kennan testified, "the result usually is that the same process of compromise is merely repeated there."

Kennan headed the State Department's policy planning staff under the late former secretary, Gen. George C. Marshall. He is now a professor at the Institute for Advanced Studies, Princeton, N.J.

The crowd joined a typing class at Paragould High School yesterday. Boys in the class tossed him out. The bird returned later and perched on an overhead pipe outside another classroom.

Fenton had no comment.

Foe Thinks Faubus Will Lose Heavily

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Orval B. Faubus will be beaten in a runoff primary, "at least 50,000 votes," predicts one of his foes in the governor's race, H. B. Williams of Walnut Ridge.

Williams, whose outlook of the race was contained in a statement yesterday in Little Rock, differed sharply from Faubus. The governor Tuesday predicted that he not only would win a fourth term, but would do it with a majority in the first primary July 28.

Another candidate, Joe C. Hardin of Grady, saw a vindication of his views on segregation in the election of Parris Bryant as governor in Florida. Bryant had pledged to fight integration with "all honorable legal and constitutional means." Hardin said, and "this is the stand I have been taking."

Faubus differed in interpretation of the Florida election. He noted that although Florida has a lot of immigrants from the North, "they still elected an outright segregationist" over a candidate who had the backing of moderate Gov. Leroy Collins.

The other two candidates for governor — Bill Millsap Jr. of Siloam Springs and Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett — campaigned more quietly. Millsap in the Stuttgart and Helena areas and Bennett in Central Arkansas.

Williams said he predicted Faubus' defeat because "people are simply sick of bald-faced Paulusism." He also accused the governor of appealing for Negro votes in a speech dedicating a new dormitory at the Wrightville Negro Boys Industrial School.

Added Williams: "The white people of the deep colored belt of Arkansas realize that such a situation could lead to every county official being colored."

Hardin, in a television interview in Fort Smith, repeated his opposition to closing of public schools to avoid integration. He said he also was taken by Bryant in Florida.

Earlier, Hardin had praised "local leadership" which he said resulted in location of a Borg-Warner Corp. plant there. He added: "It may be noteworthy that cities considered for this plant were border cities just as far as possible away from the district where the schools were closed."

Millsap, in southern Arkansas, said he had heard complaints about that section being isolated from the rest of the state by bad roads and a lack of industry in the area.

There are about 5,000 beds in the State Hospital for Nervous Diseases, with about 3,100 in the unit at Benton and 1,900 in the Little Rock unit.

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvair that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run . . . went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvair's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvair (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvair is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

Ford Hurls the Yanks Over the 'Hot' Orioles

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer.

They can be the league-leading Baltimore Orioles or a bunch of second division birds, either way they're dead ducks against Whitey Ford.

The stubby southpaw, bothered by elbow trouble and home run balls, looked as good as ever Thursday night, pitching a three-hitter as the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 2-0 and eased the Orioles out of the American League lead.

The loss ended the Birds' winning streak at four and dropped them to second place, .012 percentage points behind idle Cleveland. It's the first time the Indians, with an 18-12 record to Baltimore's 20-14, have been alone in first place this season.

Chicago's third place White Sox moved within a half-game of the lead, ending their slump at four games with a 3-1 victory at Kansas City. Washington defeated Boston 5-2 in the only other AL game scheduled.

In the National League, San Francisco padded its lead to 1 1/2 games with a 9-0 victory at Philadelphia on Jack Sanford's four-hit pitching. Milwaukee defeated St. Louis 4-1. No other games were scheduled.

Ford gave up a second-inning double by Brooks Robinson and a third-inning single by losing pitcher Skinny Brown, then didn't allow another hit until rookie Ron Hansen tripled with two out in the ninth.

The Yankees beat Brown in the first inning on Tony Kubek's lead-off single, a walk and Bob Cerv's two-out single. Singles by Bill Skowron and Bobby Richardson got the other run home in the seventh.

Dick Brown's two-run homer and an RBI triple by Minnie Minoso gave the White Sox their runs in the first three innings against Dick Hall (4-1). Gerry Staley who came in with the bases loaded and one out in the seventh, got pinch-hitter Hank Bauer on a doubleplay ball, saved the victory for Bob Shaw (4-3), who gave up four of the A's five hits.

Pete Ramos won his second in a row with a five-hitter for the Senators, after losing his first five. A two-run single by Julio Becquer capped a winning three-run fifth against Jerry Casale (2-3).

Kessinger Signs With Old Miss

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—Donnie Kessinger, one of the most talented athletes ever to come out of Arkansas high schools, will attend the University of Mississippi on a basketball-basketball scholarship.

Old Miss coach Bonnie Graham announced yesterday that Kessinger had accepted an offer by him and baseball coach Tom Swartz to enroll in Mississippi on a grant-in-aid scholarship in September.

Kessinger, a star in football, basketball and track at Forrest City High School and an American Legion baseball standout, said he will study business and aim toward a professional baseball career.

The 6-1 Kessinger received All-America citations in football and basketball and was all-state in three sports, excluding baseball.

EVERY ONCE IN A WHILE THE FACTORY PRESS releases come up with such a beautiful picture that a newspaper runs it regardless of the advertising content. This one came from the manufacturer of Johnson outboard engines, and was engraved by The Star.

Forrest City does not have a high school baseball team. He earned nine varsity letters in three years.

In track he set a state hurdles record as a junior. In basketball he averaged over 30 points per game last year and was most valuable player in the state AAA-AA tournament. He quarterbacked Forrest City's football team to a perfect season. He is a shortstop in baseball.

Kessinger said he selected Mississippi out of numerous college offers including Arkansas because Ole Miss has the best baseball program. He said he will not play any more football, but concentrate on baseball and basketball.

He graduated from high school last week. He will play semi-pro baseball this summer and compete in the Arkansas high school All-Star basketball game in Little Rock in August.

Adcock's Bat Has Braves Winning Again

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joe Adcock's at it again and Milwaukee's so-so Braves have come alive, winning four of their last five.

The big first baseman, bothered by platooning and a bad back, has driven in seven of Milwaukee's 17 runs in that span while upping his batting average to .352. He was 2-for-4 and rapped across a run as the Braves scored a clinching three in the second inning Thursday night for a 4-1 victory at St. Louis.

San Francisco padded its first place lead to 1 1/2 games over idle Pittsburgh, flattened the Phils again with a 9-0 victory on Jack Sanford's four-hit pitching and a trio of homers. No other game of the top by beating Kan-

In the American League, idle Cleveland took over first by .012 percentage points over Baltimore. The Orioles slipped to second with a 2-0 loss at New York as Whitey Ford pitched a three-hitter for the fourth place Yankees. Third place Chicago climbed within a half-game of the top by beating Kansas City 3-1. Washington defeated Boston 5-2.

Adcock and winning pitcher Bob Buhl (3-2) each singled home a run in the second for the third place Braves, who trail by four games. The Braves counted 11 of their 12 hits off loser Wilmer Mizell (1-3).

The Cards scored in the fifth on Bob Neiman's first NL home run, one of his three hits. Buhl, the first to put away three complete games on the Braves' staff, gave up seven hits, walked three and struck out nine.

Orlando Cepeda, who drove in four runs, Ed Bressoud and Willie Mays homered as the Giants banged a dozen hits for a sweep of the three-game set at Philadelphia and a 6-0 record against the Phils. It was Sanford's fifth victory in six decisions and his second shutout over his ex-mates.

Gene Conley (2-2) dropped his second to the Giants, giving up their three runs on Cepeda's eighth home run and Bressoud's fourth. Reliever Ruben Gomez, one

U. S. Leaves Way Open for Peace Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States bombarded the Soviet Union today with a broadcast appeal from President Eisenhower to forget the failure of the Paris summit conference and join in "business like dealings" for East-West peace.

"The path of reason and common sense is still open if the Soviets will but use it," Eisenhower declared Wednesday night in a radio-telephone broadcast from the White House.

Translations of the speech, carried throughout the world by the Voice of America, were being beamed to the Soviet Union today in 22 separate broadcasts in seven languages spoken in that area.

Eisenhower asserted his intention to seek improved relations with the Soviet Union "despite our recent disappointment" and said specifically that the United States will continue to take part in conferences at Geneva on disarmament and on prohibition of nuclear weapons tests.

At the same time he made emphatically clear that—in spite of cancellation of U2 spy flights—he intends to continue gathering intelligence information about the Soviet Union's military developments by all practical means.

Obviously referring to spy-in-the-sky satellites, he said "new techniques, other than aircraft, are constantly being developed" to do this.

But Eisenhower stressed that he would much prefer that the United Nations undertake the task of keeping watch on the military efforts of all the great powers.

He reaffirmed his intention to propose a new open skies plan to the U.N. and announced that the United States would supply "part of the aircraft and equipment required." Press Officer James C.

Thief Takes Only Blind, Sick Puppy

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A veterinarian, given a blind and hopelessly ill puppy to destroy, asked 26-year-old Janis Mosley to care for it. He said there was a slim chance she might save it.

For two weeks, the Little Rock secretary treated it tenderly for water on the brain, which caused the optic nerve pressure making it sightless.

The veterinarian gained hope that the dog might live and recover its sight, with daily injections of medicine.

Yesterday Janis came home from work and found her apartment had been entered. Of five toy poodles she kept, the thief had taken only one—the blind and mortally ill puppy.

Hagerly said this offer would include the high-flying U2 jet planes used by the United States in aerial espionage of the Soviet Union for the past four years.

At this point in his speech Eisenhower dramatically turned away from his prepared text, as it was released in advance, and displayed a photograph of the North Island Naval Station at San Diego, Calif.

Explaining that it was taken from an altitude of more than 70,000 feet—about 13 miles—he said that some of the lines shown in the picture were only six inches wide.

The photograph provides an example of "what could be accomplished through United Nations aerial surveillance," the President said. He did not mention the fact but it also provided an example of the kind of detailed photographic information which the United States evidently collected with the U2 photographic missions over Soviet territory.

Eisenhower went into some detail on the May 1952 incident which Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev cited as a reason for breaking up the summit meeting.

Chile Counts Dead Now at 2,829

By THOMAS J. STONE

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—No reliable figures are available today for southern Chile, wrecked by five days of continuing earthquakes, tidal waves, avalanches and volcanic eruptions.

The official death toll so far was 2,829 dead or missing, 2 million—a fourth of the nation's population—homeless and 300 million dollars property damage. And the count was mounting steadily.

The U.S. Air Force joined in flying relief through the smoke billowing from volcanoes.

With countless communities still cut off and the upheavals of nature continuing, officials could not even predict the final toll. Lawless clouds and rain hampered aerial rescue operations. Smoke and ash from volcanoes hung over much of the southern part of the mountainous land.

The Interior Ministry listed the known dead at 1,700 and 1,123 missing and presumed dead.

The face of the country itself was altered by the disturbances which began Saturday. Three new earth tremors were reported Wednesday. Tidal waves up to 15 feet high still pounded along 750 miles of the southern coast. Many islands along the coast could not be reached for word of their inhabitants.

In Carlin Province the earth's surface dropped as much as 1,000 feet over a 25-mile stretch. Two new lakes formed in the Andes near Lake Rinihue. Avalanches filled valleys with stone and earth.

The U.S. Air Force summoned planes from bases in New Jersey, Delaware and South Carolina to lift two fully equipped, 400-bed field hospitals to Santiago. Thirty-four planes were to transport the 326 medical personnel and 350 tons of equipment.

Other Air Force units in the Panama Canal Zone already were rushing to the stricken areas with tents, blankets, field radios and litters for evacuation of the injured.

Other relief supplies were sent by Argentina, Cuba, Ecuador, Haiti, Peru, the Netherlands and Norway. The Chilean Red Cross appealed for more, for food and tents for the homeless particularly.

Ashen-faced refugees flown from battered Puerto Montt said the city of 20,000 on the south central Chilean coast was a shambles.

"There is little water and almost no food," said Antonio Ugarte. "The injured in the hospital had to be moved into the street for fear the building would collapse."

L. R. Cafe Closed as a Nuisance

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Circuit Judge William J. Kirby today permanently enjoined the Playhouse Cafe here from operating as a public nuisance.

Under the order the cafe may be reopened.

It can be closed only if Kirby should find the operator guilty of continuing to operate it in a proper manner.

The cafe was closed last week under a temporary order, pending today's hearing.

Prosecutor J. Frank Holt charged law violations and irregularities in its operation.

Accused of Rape of Young Bride

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—James Robert Lewis, 21, Memphis, was held in jail without bond today after a young bride testified he raped her while holding her at knifepoint.

Lewis pleaded innocent yesterday.

The girl, married two weeks ago, said Lewis picked her up in Memphis last Saturday and drove her into Arkansas where she was raped.

Lewis will be tried in Circuit Court next September.

Officers to Hear Student Problems

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A group of outstanding high school students will talk about their problems at a meeting of the Arkansas Peace Officers Assn. next week.

The four boys and two girls will participate in a panel discussion at the association's 40th annual convention which begins here next Wednesday.

An announcement said the panelists would tell the peace officers what they believe are the major problems facing juveniles and how community leaders can help find a solution.

The youths attended the recent White House Conference on Children and Youth at Washington, D. C.

They are: Joel Anderson of Swifton, president of the Arkansas 4-H Clubs; Ann Erwin, senior at McGhee High School and governor of Arkansas Girls State last year.

Barbara Benton, senior at Fordyce High School and valedictorian of her class. Miss Benton toured Europe last fall on a goodwill junket sponsored by the National High School Student Councils Assn. to improve international relations.

Bill Stroud, senior at McGhee High School, governor of Arkansas Boys State last year and the state's representative to Boys Nation.

Tom Gallaher, senior at Fort Smith High School, member of the Key Club and other groups.

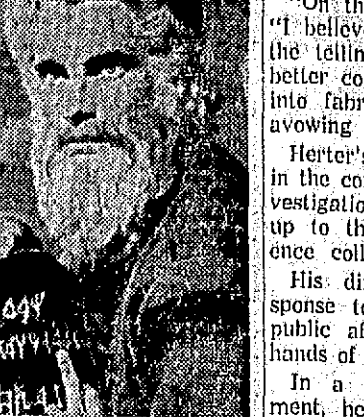

Tommy Nichols, junior at Mahabale High School, president of the Student Council and member of the Arkansas Junior Society of Science.

Moderators for the discussion will be Prosecutor Frank Holt of Little Rock and the Rev. Woodrow W. Smith, pastor of the Mahabale Methodist Church.

They also attended the Washington conference.

Sun - Mon. at Saenger

Charlton Heston

Playing the greatest role in his entire career, Charlton Heston portrays Moses in the outstanding motion picture, "The Ten Commandments" starting Sunday at the Saenger Theatre in Hope. Also starring with Heston are Anne Baxter, Yul Brynner, Edward G. Robinson, Yvonne De Carlo, Debra Paget, John Derek and Vincent Price.

At the same time he advocated a "call and resolute" posture toward the Soviet Union. He urged that the nation avoid "fruitless and damaging recriminations" over what has happened.

The inquiry is being conducted by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

A pledge that the senators will "strive to avoid bitter partisan debate" was given by committee Chairman J. William Fulbright.

While few in the free world doubt that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev bears the chief blame for destruction of the summit hopes, Fulbright told Herter, "there are many who believe that our conduct has not been without fault."

The hearing was conducted "behind closed doors, but with an arrangement whereby censored transcripts were to be delivered to newsmen as quickly as possible.

The initial documents reporters received were Fulbright's opening statement and a prepared statement by Herter.

The inquiry, Fulbright told Herter, would focus on these four areas:

"First, the events and decisions resulting from the U2 incident; second, the effects of these events and decisions upon the summit; third, the policy of our government regarding the summit meeting; and fourth, the policy of the United States in the future and possible improvement in the execution thereof."

Herter said that initial statements by the U.S. government were designed to keep the intelligence mission secret and to protect the pilot. He said that up to May 7 "statements followed the line of the cover story and situation as it developed."

Elaborate precautions were taken against any eavesdropping on the hearings.

He said that, since the U2 system had been compromised, "it was discontinued as any other intelligence mission would be in such a case."

A security guard with an electronic device that looked like an oversized black table tennis paddle checked the big hearing room foot by foot to make sure no microphone or their hidden device had been planted.

The device was connected by a long cord to earphones worn by the operator.

Old Archie Gets a TKO in Tenth

By JERRY LISKA Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Old Archie Moore (43?) still has the punch, but the punch must go, before he defends his light heavyweight title against Erich Schoppner of Germany next July 18.

Moore, carrying a billyow 206½ pounds, Wednesday night scored a tenth-round technical knockout over Willi Besmanoff of Milwaukee in a nationally televised heavyweight bout in the Indiana State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The 175-pound king from San Diego, Calif., was dropped to one knee by a right-hand blast from Besmanoff in the second round.

Moore went to work, dropped Besmanoff for a mandatory eight count in the fifth and then really wrecked the plucky German with a right which caught Besmanoff flush on the back and decked him near the end of the ninth.

Besmanoff's nose was bleeding profusely over everybody in the ring in the 10th round, and Referee Frank Gilmer, chairman of the Illinois State Athletic Commission, called it quits at 1:32.

Promoter Jack Fugazy of New York disclosed after the bout that Moore would defend his 175-pound crown against Schoppner on July 18, a Monday night. The site, he said, would be announced within a few days.

All three officials had Moore well ahead through nine rounds. Gilmer's vote was 43-37, while judges Tony Coppi and Kelse McClure had Archie in front, 43-38, the same as the AP card.

L. R. Board Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Little Rock School Board members meet today to discuss the question, how many Negroes to assign next fall to formerly all-white high schools.

Formal action is expected in an open meeting tonight after a day of private talks.

Eight Negroes now attend two formerly all-white schools, but three of them are scheduled to graduate.

It makes a great deal of difference.

"On the other hand," he said, "I believe in a sense of this kind the telling of the truth was the better course than getting deeper into fabricating excuses or disavowing responsibility."

Herter's testimony was given in the committee's closed-door investigation of the events leading up to the Paris summit conference collapse.

His direct statements, in response to questions, were made public after passing through the hands of censors.

In a lengthy prepared statement, he said the United States must be prepared in the aftermath of the summit collapse "to withstand aggressive pressures from Russia" in Berlin and elsewhere.

At the same time he advocated a "call and resolute" posture toward the Soviet Union. He urged that the nation avoid "fruitless and damaging recriminations" over what has happened.

Credit Groups Are Banks' Competition

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Credit unions will become bankers' sternest form of competition, an American Bankers Assn. official predicted today.

Carl A. Bahmeier of Huron, S. D., told the Arkansas Bankers Assn., that credit unions had set ambitious goals of progress for the next few years.

These include a 600 per cent increase in loans, a 300 per cent increase in savings and 20 million members.

Bahmeier, chairman of the ABA's state association division, spoke at the Arkansas group's annual convention here today.

Later today, delegates vote on an unopposed slate of candidates for state officers.

Washington Starts 2nd Restoration Job - Black's Smithy

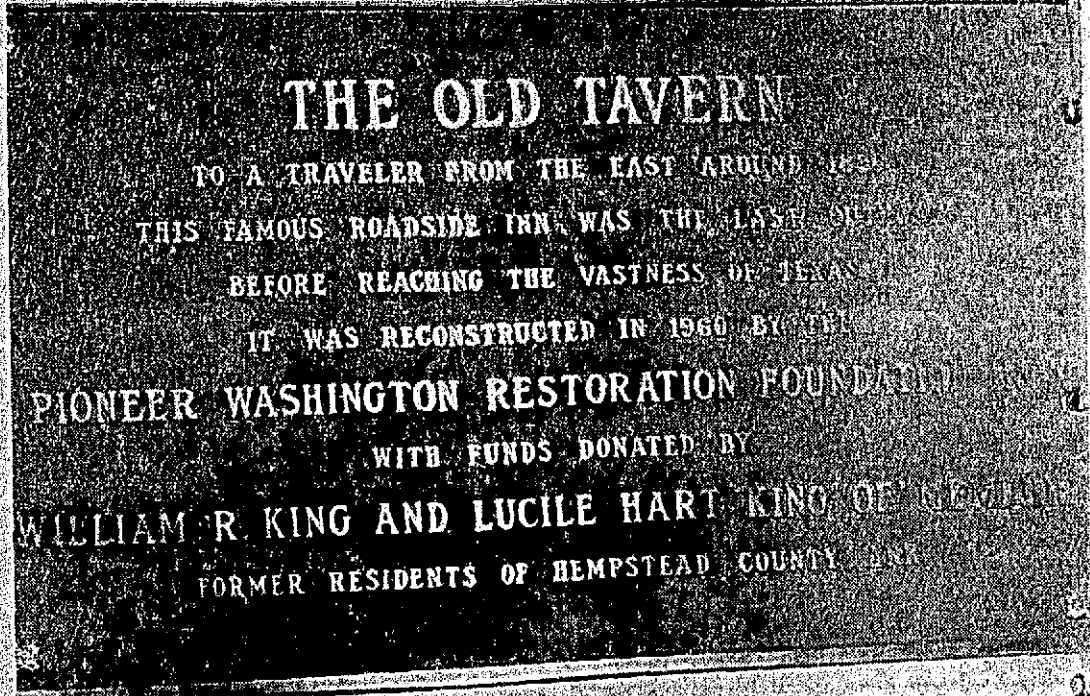

2 P. M. THURSDAY, MAY 26, 1960 — THIS WAS THE SCENE AT WASHINGTON as a $15,000 donation by Albert G. Simms of Albuquerque, N. M., native son of Hempstead county, made possible the start of the No. 2 project of the Washington restoration program — reconstruction of the blacksmith shop where James Black forged the fighting knives of Col. James Bowie.

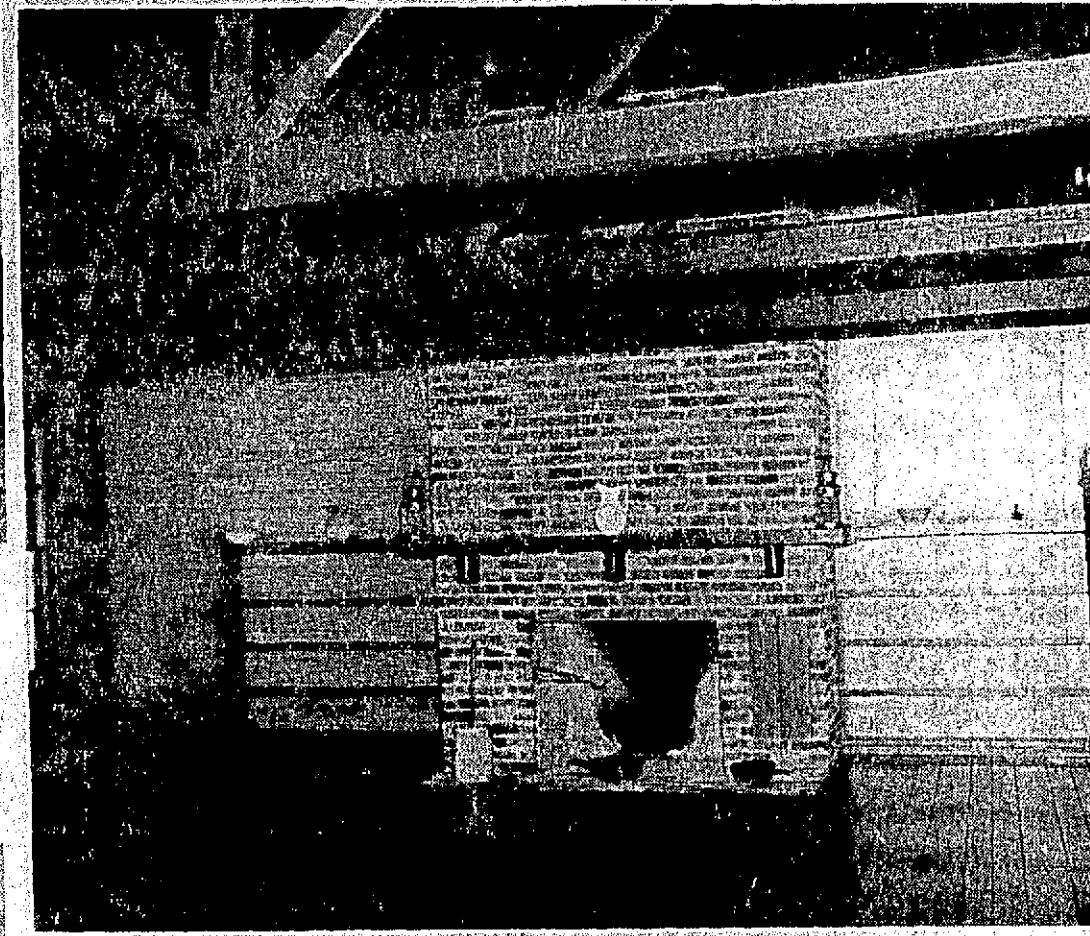

WIELDING THE SHOVEL FOR THE GROUND-BREAKING IS W. R. KING of Memphis, who with Mrs. King earlier gave the $30,000 that re-created the Old Tavern — the No. 1 project. Mr. Simms' $15,000 gift for the Blacksmith Shop project was supplemented by $2,000 from the Pioneer Washington Restoration, Inc., making total cost of the blacksmith shop $17,000. The $2,000 was donated as follows: John D.

Trimble, Jr., El Dorado, $500; Mrs. John D. Trimble, Sr., El Dorado, $500; and $1,000 miscellaneous gifts.

Better Leave That Water Cooler Alone

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK AP — Early one morning the following notice appeared on the office bulletin board of the giant Acme Tiddlywink Co., Inc.:

"Owing to long complaints over the operation of the old office water cooler, it will soon be removed and replaced by a new water cooler, costing $5,000."

The new type, known as "The Miracle Ration-Jet Water Cooler," has certain advantages over the old model, and will add to office efficiency.

"The management is pleased to make this investment in the water cooler of its employees."

Fifteen minutes later—just as President Phineas Foogle expected—he was visited by the office water cooler grievance committee, led by its chairman, Roscoe Bloop, a 35-year man.

"What's this about getting a new water cooler?" demanded Bloop.

"Well, I just got tired hearing you boys holler about the old one," said Foogle.

"What we want to know is how it will add to office efficiency," said Bloop.

"Oh, that," replied Foogle, waving his hand. "It's simple. We made a study and found that only 45 people an hour took a drink from the old water cooler. But they tended to come up in groups. This meant they stood around gossipping until it was their turn. Naturally, this also meant a big waste of company time."

The faces of the grievance committee members looked at each other in muttee hardened.

"And just how will this so-called new Miracle Ration-Jet Water Cooler make things better?" asked Bloop.

"It will be connected to a red light in the center of the office," explained Foogle smoothly. "Every minute on the minute, the red light will come on and stay lit for exactly 30 seconds."

"The water cooler works only when the red light is lit. It will be on for 30 seconds, off for 30 seconds."

"This will end the need of congregating around the water cooler. When the red light flashes an employee will rise, go to the water cooler, refresh himself and return to his desk. A minute later, when the red light flashes again, another employee can take his turn."

"This will save time for all concerned."

The grievance committee members looked at each other in ter disbelief. Bloop demanded and received a one-hour recess.

Sixty minutes later the committee was back and Bloop announced crisply: "The staff doesn't like the idea of drinking water by signals. We have voted 48 to 0 to picket the place at 2 p.m. today unless management agrees to cancel its order for the new so-called Miracle Ration-Jet Water Cooler. We insist the present water cooler be retained."

"All right, boys. I bow to your will," sighed Foogle. "I was just trying to do you all a favor."

The grievance committee left, faces flushed with victory.

At lunch Tom Hopeful, Google's assistant, asked, "What was all that rumpus about?"

"Why, there's no such thing as the market as a Miracle Ration-Jet Water Cooler," chuckled Foogle. "I just got sick of hearing the boys complain about the old one. They'll be afraid now to mention water out loud for at least six months."

"Chief," said Tom admiringly. "It's no wonder they call you the smartest brain in the entire tiddlywinks industry."

"Well," answered Phineas Foogle modestly. "I've found you never have any trouble getting what they want. The only thing is you have to make sure they want only what you intend to give them in the first place."

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Commerce Commission today authorized truck freight service by Missouri Pacific Lines from Little Rock to Camden, Gurdon and El Dorado.
